THE DRIFT TO WILSON.

The Cleveland Press, an independent paper and known as a champion of the common people, a paper with a daily circulation of several hundred thousand copies, says that the "drift to Wilson alarms Republican leaders in Ohio." The Press has experts covering the State to learn the sentiment of the people, and one of these, Mr.
H. N. Riekey, writing from Columbus last Saturday, says:

While the Republicans keep on putting Ohio in all of their lists of sure-for-Hughes states, I doubt whether there is a Republican leader in the state who believes any such thing.

They may have believed it at the beginning of the campaign, just as the national Republican leaders believed, or professed to believe, at that time, that Hughes was going to sweep the country.

But they have no illusions now.

The best that even the most optimistic Republican leader in Ohio really hopes for, at this time, is that between now and election some way can be found to stop the drift toward Wilson which is reported from every section of the state, not excluding Hamilton county with its big German population, and having stopped it, to turn it in the opposite direction.

The word has been sent down the line from Republican national headquarters to the state committee that Ohio must be carried for Hughes at any cost.

It is probable that neither the national nor the state Republican leaders woke up to what the voters in Ohio were thinking about until after Candidate Hughes spoke in the state late in September.

The Hughes frost in Toledo and Cleveland was the first shock to the Republican managers. They have been shocked almost daily since as reports have been coming in from every section of the state telling of the inability of the county, township and ward leaders to stir up enthusiasm for the "hundred per cent candidate."

Discouraging as are the reports from the industrial centers, where it was rather expected that the president would be popular with the workmen, they have not been as disappointing as the reports from the small towns and farming communities.

The small town voter and the farmer have always been considered safe in presidential years by the Republican managers.

It has never been thought necessary to do more than make the motions of holding them in line.
But it is different this year, and nobody knows this any better than the Republican managers.

The difference is just this—partisan prejudice, strong as it is in most of the rural communities, is not strong enough this year to overcome the deep-seated conviction that the man in the white house has kept this country out of war and that he deserves re-election for that reason, if for no other, even tho he is a Democrat.

There is not the slightest doubt that tens of thousands of voters in the rural counties of the state, who never before voted for a Democrat for president, will vote for Woodrow Wilson, "the man who kept us out of war."

There is not the slightest doubt that a greater percentage of the labor vote in the big cities will be polled for Wilson than has ever been polled for a Democratic candidate for president.

This is not due alone to the president's attitude on the eight-hour law, but even more to the indisputable fact that the president and the Democratic congress have been responsible for more legislation in the interest of the man who works with his hands than any four previous administrations.

Hughes is still flaying the Adamson Eight Hour law in spite of the fact that prominent republicans in all parts of the country are defending it. Myron T. Herrick, ex-ambassador to France and candidate for U. S. Senator in Ohio, has openly declared himself in favor of the Adamson law and is making his campaign independent of Hughes.

The News is publishing at the head of its editorial column the names of all regular Democratic nominees in the State and county. It is important, especially, that every democrat become familiar with the names of the Democratic Presidential electors, which he can do by cutting them out and committing them to memory.
These names will appear on the ticket along with those of the Republican, Socialist and other presidential electors and all arranged alphabetically with no party device to indicate them.
It is therefore necessary that all who would vote for Woodrow Wilson for President that they mark a cross (x) mark before each one of these six electors' names.

If the "Honorable" Sidney J. Catts is, as he claims, the regular democratic candidate for Governor of Florida, how does it happen that his name was not so certified to the various boards of county commissioners as such by the State Canvassing Board? Mr.
Catts' name is on the ticket in Putnam county by reason of a petition signed by 500 electors of the State that his name be placed there as an independent candidate. Of these 500 names signed to that petition, only 85 were Putnam county voters, and a large number of these were names of well-known socialists and republicans, with some who had formerly been democrats.

Robert S. Lovett of New York, head of the Union Pacific system, has issued a remarkable statement advocating President Wilson's re-election.
After reciting the remarkable achievements of Wilson's administration and excusing its mistakes, Mr. Lovett says:

But these considerations are insignificant in comparison with one great overshadowing question involved in this election, namely, whether the American people are going to be disciplined and defended and driven from office by an alien element in our population for daring to insist upon American rights against a foreign government.

There is no mistaking this issue. The German American alliance and other disloyal organizations proclaim it with amazing audacity.

If the Republican candidate wins—if Wilson is defeated—there will be more rejoicing in Berlin than there would be over the winning of a battle or the capture of a great city—even Verdun!

WHAT LEADING STATE
EDITORS ARE SAYING.

No Room for Differences Now—

Gainesville Sun: Gen. J. C. R. Foster of St. Augustine, Adjutant General of Florida, made a statement while in Jacksonville last week as follows:
"My feeling is that every one who is a DEMOCRAT, and particularly every one who, as office holder, has received the endorsement of the party in the past, should rally to the support of the party nominee. There is no issue now between individuals within the party, and therefore there is no room for differences of opinion among Democrats. The party standard-bearers have been selected, and the question that was in dispute has been settled by the highest tribunal in the State and ratified by the party organization. No consistent Democrat can hesitate as to where his obligation lies, and I do not think they will."

The Trail of the Serpent—

Orlando Reporter-Star: The Republican candidate for governor has given out an interview stating that he or Catts would be elected governor of Florida—that Knott was out of it.
Until this statement came from the lips of George W. Allen, the Reporter Star was inclined to respect him.
But this makes it apparent that the Republicans and Catts have without regard for decency joined hands for the purpose of defeating the Democratic nominee. The trade is understood to be that Republicans will vote for Catts if Catts supporters vote for Republican presidential electors. It behoves all to know the Democratic electors, so that no mistake will be made. They will appear on the ticket with the others and without any distinction as to party. Democrats should clip out this list and either memorize it or keep it handy. Here are the Democratic electors:

J. TURNER BUTLER
MARTIN CARABALLO
J. P. CLARKSON
FRANK HARRIS
MILTON H. MABRY, SR.
WILL H. PRICE.

Have They All Turned Rascals?—

Ocala Banner: Let's see. If W. V.
Knott is not the lawful democratic nominee why is it that he is receiving the support of Farris, Hudson and Wood? Why is it that he is receiving the support of Crawford, Luning, Jeff Browne, Fen. Taylor, McRae, and all our members of congress, those who are now in congress and those new ones selected as their successors, all supporting Knott? Why is it that all of our judges recognize him as the lawful candidate? Do we hear it said that all of the democratic officials of Florida have suddenly turned rascals and that our only hope of honesty is in Mr. Catts, a comparative imposter, of whose antecedents we know nothing? God forbid.

He Can't Do It—

Punta Gorda Herald: In the June primary, about 85,000 votes were cast.
Of these, Mr. Catts received 35,000 first and second choice votes. It therefore, follows that 50,000 Democrats voted against him. This, in round numbers. Upon the basis of these figures, Mr. Catts, in order to win on Nov. 7th, must get 7,000 more votes than he received in the primary.
He can't do it; there are not that many Democratic voters in Florida.

A Frame Up—

Orlando Reporter-Star: How can our friends who honestly supported Catts deny that they were fooled by a series of recent developments? For months we have told them that the police-religious frame up was for an other purpose than to divert the Democratic party, tear it all to shreds, in the hope that the Republicans might win. Had Catts been declared the Democratic nominee, as the Republicans wished, there would have been ground for these hoaxes. The following from the Gainesville Sun is testimony in point:

"Billie Parker, who toured the state last winter lecturing against the Catholic church and organizing Guardian of Liberty Clubs (whether under that name or some other they were organized for the same purpose), is now conspicuous Florida in behalf of Mr.
Allen, the Republican candidate for governor. Billie Parker has always been a Republican, and his mission to Florida was to recruit the Democratic party, in which he was very successful."

Reid-Bruce Wedding.

The marriage of Mr. J. Henderson Reid of Hastings, and Miss Annie Bruce, a popular young lady of Palatka, took place in the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. M. Alford, D. D., in the presence of only the immediate family and a few friends from outside the city. The impressive ring service was read and the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elvira Bruce, and the groom by Mr. Walter Proctor of Hastings.

Miss Bruce wore a becoming traveling suit of dark blue with gray hat and veil and gray boots.

The happy couple left over the East Coast R'y at 5:10 p. m., but their destination remains a secret.

After a two weeks' honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Reid will be at home to their friends in Hastings, where the groom has a cozy furnished cottage ready.
The exact date of the wedding was a jealous secret of the bride whose dearest friends did not know of the time set, but notwithstanding this fact, Mrs. Reid leaves hosts of friends who wish them every joy and happiness.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs.
E. L. Votermack of Jacksonville, a cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs.
Dunant and family, and Mr. and Mrs.
Proctor of Hastings; Robley Bruce and Miss Elvira Bruce, brother and sister of the bride who are students in Stetson and Tallahassee schools.

Capt. R. H. Robie Passes Away.

Capt. R. H. Robie, since the early 90's one of Palatka's prominent citizens, died about 5 o'clock last evening after a lingering illness.

The funeral will be held from his late home at the foot of Reid street this afternoon at three o'clock, and the body will be taken to Doffston, N.
H., for interment, accompanied by his wife and only daughter, Mrs. Harry E.
Stewart of Jacksonville.

Capt. Robie came to Palatka in the early 90's as a locomotive engineer on the G. S. & F. R'y, and remained in the service of that road until about two years ago, when he retired because of age. At that time he was the senior locomotive engineer on the road.

He owned an orange grove at Oviedo and on retiring from the railway service he spent much of his time there. He was taken ill some months ago, and for a time was under treatment in a Jacksonville hospital. Several weeks ago he came home, and sank gradually until the end came on Thursday.

Capt. Robie was a soldier of the Civil war, and a member of a Massachusetts Post, Grand Army of the Republic. He was also a Mason, and members of that order will attend his funeral service this afternoon, probably using the Masonic rites in the service. Mooney & Davis have charge of all arrangements for the funeral.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Col. F. J. H. von Engelken, Director of the United States Mint, arrived in the city last night from Jacksonville and will spend a day or two at his home, Vngolf-on-the-St. Johns, before returning to Washington. Mr. von Engelken came south with the national Farm Loan Board and was at the hearing in Jacksonville yesterday.

At the Baptist church next Sunday evening the service will open with 20 minutes devoted to vocal music.
The sermon by Dr. Dunsteel will be short, and the entire service will continue but an hour. Begins at 7:30, and the congregation invites all who are without a regular place of worship to come and enjoy the service.

Mr. S. C. Warner is in the city this morning, coming last night from Jacksonville where he attended the meeting yesterday called to welcome the national Farm Loan Board at its hearing in that city. Mr. Warner states that there was a large gathering of business men and representative farmers and growers from all parts of the State.

W. S. Fry, Jr., has within the past few months secured two fine specimens of the Barn owl, which same he has preserved in the best specimen of the taxidermist's art. The second one of these owls was secured on Wednesday and was shot by Ernest Becks at Peniel. It is already being stuffed by Mr. Fry. This young man is making quite a collection of Florida bird life which he will sell to tourists and others interested.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Hutchinson of Preston, Cuba, arrived in the city yesterday for a visit of some time with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hutchinson, Sr. Mr. Hutchinson is in charge of the mercantile department of the Nipe Bay Company's big sugar plantation at Preston, and while here will go to the New York office of the company for his annual purchasing trip and to talk over business matters with the company directors.

Bracewell-Urie Wedding.

St. James Methodist church was a bower of beauty Wednesday when at 5 o'clock occurred the marriage of Mr. Ashley Edward Bracewell of Jacksonville, and Miss Annie Louise Urie. A half hour previous to the entrance of the bridal party, a program of sweet and appropriate music was rendered with organ and violin by the organist, Mrs. W. G. Tilghman and Miss Louise Boyd. Mrs.
C. G. McCormick of Tallahassee, a cousin of the bride, sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," and before the ceremony, "O Promise Me."

The ring service was performed by the pastor, the Rev. S. Grady, in the presence of a large audience of relatives and friends.

Promptly on the hour appointed the ushers, Ralph Tavel and John Hodge, preceded the bridal couple and were met at the altar by Miss Grace Urie, the maid of honor, and after the little flower maid, Margaret Benbow, who scattered rose petals in the path, came the charming bride with her father, who gave her in marriage, while in the other aisle came the groom, Ashley Edward Bracewell, and his best man, Mr. Will Brown of Jennings.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in a coat-suit of Copenhagen blue, trimmed in brown fur, with black velvet hat trimmed in gold. Her boots and gloves were of gray and she carried white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Grace Urie, the maid of honor, wore a beautiful gown of old rose taffeta combined with green crepe, a black velvet hat and black kid shoes, and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Little Margaret Benbow were white orphanide combined with pink messaline.

After the ceremony the happy couple received their friends in the vestibule where they were showered with congratulations and best wishes.

Several cars of friends accompanied them to the station where amid showers of rice and well-wishes they boarded the 5:48 train for Jackso-ville where they will be at home at 1940 Liberty street, Springfield, after November first.

The out of town guests were Mrs.
J. Lyckenheim of Havana, Cuba; Mrs.
James C. Bracewell of Belville, Fla.; Mrs. Raymond Urie of Frostproof; Mrs. C. G. McCormick of Tallahassee, Mrs. S. Boteler Thompson of Tampa.

The Catts' Meeting.

Hon. Van C. Swearingen, ex-mayor of Jacksonville, addressed a large Catts' meeting in the court house last night. The meeting was presided over by E. M. Earnest and the speaker of the evening was introduced by J. N. Blackwell, Esq., local attorney for Catts in the contest.

A feature of the evening was the reading of a letter from Mr. Chas.
Burt of Palatka Heights resigning as a member of the Putnam County democratic committee. Mr. Burt has taken the leap to independency, where he will have more company than usual, this year.

Mr. Swearingen is a self-made man.
He was a blacksmith with an ambition and he read law by the light of a coal oil lamp and finally was admitted to the bar. He took an active interest in public matters and became something of a leader of men. Then he was elected during a reform wave to the majority of Jacksonville. But he couldn't be re-elected. Since retiring from the mayor's office he has been drifting politically in search of some other wave that might lift him into prominence. He mounted the Catts' wave, which if it does not swamp him, will give him his soul's desire. Swearingen was born and reared in Fernandina.

The attendance at the meeting was good, something over 200 people being present. There were some who went out of idle curiosity, but in the main the audience was made up of members of the secret order who are bound together to fight the roaming hierarchy. They came from the country precincts and brought their enthusiasm with them. Their countenances were brilliant with the light of life for the cause. Mr. Swearingen talked for over an hour and a half.
He is not a specially attractive speaker, but he makes a show of zeal and is not particularly careful concerning his statements, but that is politics. He was after votes, and the point was to get them. He didn't get many new ones. His audience had all made up their minds before entering the hall.

MRS. FLAGLER WILL REBUILD HOSPITAL

At St. Augustine as a Memorial to Henry M.
Flagler.

St. Augustine, Oct. 25th—Flagler Hospital will be rebuilt by Mrs. Mary Lily Flagler, as a memorial to her husband, the late Henry M. Flagler, who founded the original building.
The above news was conveyed in a letter to the Flagler Hospital trustees from Dr. Andrew Anderson, now in New York en route home to St.
Augustine, who has been one of the hospital's most liberal benefactors.
The letter was read this morning at a meeting of the trustees of the hospital, and it is needless to add that the news was most gratifying and the generosity of Mrs. Flagler was highly appreciated. A committee of the trustees was appointed to draft suitable resolutions, recognizing the splendid gift. The resolutions will be published in tomorrow's Evening Record.

Plans for the new hospital building were drawn some time ago and after certain changes to meet conditions they are now believed to be acceptable. They provide for a modern hospital building, designed after the most approved hospitals of the large cities and these plans will probably be followed in the erection of the new building.

Dr. Anderson's letter was confined to the bare announcement that the hospital will be rebuilt by Mrs. Flagler. No details are available at the present time, but no doubt the information given in the first letter will soon be supplemented with regard to plans, cost and other details.
